Fargo is not a normal place to visit - it’s not mountains, it’s not tropical beaches, and it’s not swarming with tourists. Smack dab on the border of Minnesota and North Dakota and prairie as far as the eye can see, you’ll find a hidden gem of nightlife, food, art, and a herd of wildly friendly people to welcome you. If you’re looking for a new kind of adventure, something a little outside of the norm, head north. North of Normal.

1. WHAT TO KNOW BEFORE YOU (FAR)GO
A Midwestern dictionary

_Uffda_: Exclamation [uff-duh]
Proclaiming how tired or overwhelmed you are.
"Uffda, it's been a long day!"

_You Betcha_: Phrase [yoo'beCHə]
Frequently heard after "Oh ya", use this to answer a question instead of saying "yes".
"Did you watch the Bison game this weekend?"
"Oh ya, you betcha!"

_Hotdish_: (n) [hōt-diSH]
Midwestern word for casserole, usually made with tater tots and some kind of meat and cream mixture.
"Grandma is whipping up her famous tater hotdish for supper, you'd better step by."

_Pop_: (n) [päp]
The Midwestern word for soda,
"Norm, will you grab a pop for me while you're up?"

_Ope_: Exclamation [ohp]
Used to show recognition of a mistake or minor accident, often as part of an apology.
"Ope! Didn't see you there, sorry about that."

2. FUN FACTS

Why is Fargo so flat?
Less than 10,000 years ago, the area that is now Fargo was 200 feet below the surface of Lake Agassiz, a huge inland sea formed at the end of the last Ice Age... so we're kind of like Atlantis.

When in Fargo, you are actually visiting three cities and two states: Fargo and West Fargo in North Dakota, and Moorhead in Minnesota. Pretty neat, huh?

The Red River of the North splits North Dakota from Minnesota and is one of only a handful of rivers in North America that flows north. You can rent a kayak or canoe and paddle in two states at once (see pg. 46 for other outdoor activities in the area).

What's in a name?
Fargo was originally called Centraal but was renamed after the Northern Pacific Railway director, William G. Fargo... and yes, he's the same guy from the Wells Fargo Express Company.

Nicknamed the "Silicon Prairie", Fargo has a booming technology startup industry, an unemployment rate of 3.4%, and an average of 10 people moving to the city every single day.
We get all sorts of questions about getting to Fargo. And we’re here to tell ya, it’s much easier than you think.

> Can I fly into Fargo?
Yes! Fargo’s Hector International Airport (code FAR) has direct flights from all over the country. Plenty of connecting flights will bring you here, too, flying through places like Dallas, Chicago, Denver, and Minneapolis.

> How do I reach Fargo by car?
We’re at the cross-section of I-29 and I-94, so whatever direction you’re driving, you can’t miss us. It only takes about 3.5 hours to reach us from Minneapolis, Winnipeg, and Sioux Falls.

> Any other ways to reach you?
Looking for adventure? Board the Amtrak train, which rolls straight into the heart of Downtown Fargo. Ride in a cozy sleeper car from Chicago or all the way from Seattle. You can also get on in Minneapolis for a quick ride up. Buses also run from major cities into Fargo. See pg. 48 for these.

> Do you have Uber?
Contrary to popular belief, we do not get around in covered wagons—we have Uber and we even have Lyft.

Several traditional taxi companies also operate in the area (see pg. 48?? for all of them).

> How long does it take to get from the airport to my hotel?
It takes less than 30 minutes to get anywhere in the city...probably more like 10 to 15.

> Do I need a car to get around Fargo?
If you’d like to have a car, you can rent one easily from the airport or around town (see pg. 48 for car rental companies).

While Downtown Fargo is very walkable, you may want to get elsewhere without needing a car. To get to major areas, opt for the MATBUS service.

Is ND your 50th state? Join the Best for Last Club!

> What’s the club all about?
Travel Ambassadors at the Fargo-Moorhead Visitors Center noticed a trend in travelers looking to visit all 50 states. North Dakota was often the last to be checked off their list! So, from what one might say is an embarrassing fact, the Best for Last Club was born.

Since 2013, the Best for Last Club has become a hit with travelers wanting to visit all 50 states.

Shoot, people have started to purposely “save” their visit to North Dakota for last or changed their travel plans in order to visit the Fargo-Moorhead Visitors Center and be welcomed into the Best for Last Club.

> How do I join the Best for Last Club?
Stop by the Fargo-Moorhead Visitors Center and mention to the Travel Ambassadors that North Dakota is your 50th state...they’ll help you celebrate with a free t-shirt, official certificate, and an occasional round of applause from staff members.

> Other facts
- Join the Best for Last Club Facebook group to hear from others who have joined the club.
- There are almost 3,000 from 49 states (the only one missing is North Dakota) and 17 different countries.

Best For Last Club Fargo, ND
Woodchipper in Fargo
2001 44th St S, Fargo
Although what you see on TV wasn’t actually filmed in Fargo, North Dakota, you can still visit a piece of cinematic history – the original Fargo Woodchipper movie prop (and its stunt double) – at the Fargo-Moorhead Visitors Center.
Just off I-94, the Fargo Woodchipper sits ready and waiting for a photo op. The friendly Travel Ambassadors will give you a trapper hat (those winter hats with ear flaps that are worn in the movie) and take your picture as you pretend to push a fake leg into the Fargo “chipper”.
Beyond getting a picture with the Woodchipper from Fargo – which is signed by the Coen Brothers – you can also see other memorabilia from the movie, including a signed copy of the original script.

Downtown Fargo
Fargo’s main cultural district fills the most historic section of the city. If you’re looking for uniquely local, Downtown is the place to go with tons of shops, local restaurants, and bars lining the streets.
Start your day with craft coffee (pg. 42), then explore local art, get your picture with the Fargo Theatre marquee, buy souvenirs, and shop at local boutiques (pg. 44).
Cap the night off with bustling nightlife, live entertainment, and perfectly crafted drinks.

Plains Art Museum
704 1st Ave N, Fargo
The largest accredited art museum in North Dakota, Plains Art Museum is located in a renovated International Harvester warehouse.
This free art museum’s permanent collection has over 4,000 national, international, and regional works, including Native American art.
Reserve a guided tour for just $4 per person and have a Plains Art educator show you around or wander at your own pace.

Fargo Theatre
314 Broadway N, Fargo
Built in 1926 and beautifully restored, the art-deco interior serves as an art house theatre. Beyond movies, it’s also one of Fargo’s top venues for concerts, performing arts, and other live events.
Two hidden gems sit inside: Wood Chip Marge, a wooden statue carved in the likeness of Marge Gunderson from the 1996 film, Fargo, and The Mighty Wurlitzer, a 1926 pipe organ which scored silent movies and is still played today.

Red River Zoo
4255 23rd Ave S, Fargo
Open year-round, the Red River Zoo specializes in the care of some of the rarest cold climate species on earth.
All the animals come from similar climate conditions to the Red River Valley... so those camels you see actually love the cold!
Stop by the colored pencil fence – made up of over 1,000 large colored pencils – and ride the antique 1928 carousel during your visit.

Bonanzaville, USA
1351 Main Ave W, West Fargo
Named after the large Bonanza farms that dominated the prairie of the Old West, this pioneer village has 40+ buildings that have been relocated here from across the region.
Wander through Fargo’s first house, a country schoolhouse, a saloon and hotel, a prairie church, and a fully-stocked mercantile store. You might even get to talk to a docent in period dress about what life was like on the prairie.
Besides the pioneer village, Bonanzaville has over 400,000 artifacts from railroad gear to vintage aircraft to an entire building full of hundreds of antique organs.
Want an immersive experience? Join one of their murder mystery dinners, or explore the pioneer village after dark on a paranormal tour of Bonanzaville.
However you decide to visit, you’ll gain valuable insight into our earliest settlers, how they lived, what they possessed, and the challenges they faced.
Hjemkomst Center & Replica Norwegian Stave Church

202 1st Ave N, Moorhead

Shaped like a big white tent adjacent to the Red River, the Hjemkomst Center has something special inside: a full-size replica Viking ship.

Immerse yourself in the Hjemkomst ship’s story through videos and by wandering around its massive hull. Then, check out the art and local history exhibits in the basement.

The Viking ship isn’t the only shrine to the region’s Scandinavian culture. Just outside on the banks of the Red River, you’ll find the replica Hopperstad Stave Church.

Designed as an exact replica of the Stave church that stands in Vik, Norway, the church was built by a local man, Guy Paulson, and serves as an immersive educational exhibit offering tours every hour where you can step inside and learn the history of the Stave churches in Norway.

---

The Original Moorhead Dairy Queen

24 8th St S, Moorhead

As one of the oldest original stores this Dairy Queen doesn’t have to follow all modern franchise rules, meaning you won’t find another DQ like this.

Walk up to the counter (open May 1 - October 31) for original DQ treats like Monkey Tails, Mr. Maltese, or Chippier Sandwiches.

The famous Dilly Bar was invented at this very location, so try one of these hand-dipped creations while you take a photo with the 16-foot-tall Dilly Bar statue!

Roger Maris Museum

3902 13th Ave S, Fargo

Tucked inside West Acres Mall, this Museum pays homage to the great baseball player of the 60s. Watch historic footage in a theater with actual Yankee seats and see many artifacts from Roger’s youth and care.

Per his wishes, the museum is accessible and free to all, so stop by and take a peek at the memorabilia whenever the mall is open.

Comstock House

506 8th St S, Moorhead

Built in 1882 by an influential lawyer and businessman, Solomon Comstock, this Victorian home was the most expensive house on the block.

Reserve a guided tour and learn about its incredible residents and life in the early days on the prairie.

Or, attend an event like Yoga on the Lawn in the summer, Nooks & Crannies Flashlight Tours in the fall, or Christmas with the Comstocks or Christmas Light Tours over the holiday season.

Fargo Air Museum

1609 19th Ave N, Fargo

Wander through two hangars full of aircraft ranging from a Wright Brothers’ flyer to the Global Hawk unmanned surveillance aircraft. 90% of the planes you’ll see inside are still able to fly so you might even see one take to the skies while you’re in town.

Wanting to explore on a tour? Step into the past with a veteran docent and hear about which planes they may have flown when they were in the service, or walk it on your own and have the Talking Trails app show you the way.

Interactive displays allow you to read all about the aircraft you’re seeing… and some you can even hop inside!

Fun fact: The Air Museum is pet-friendly, so feel free to bring your furry friends along.

Hungry

If there’s one thing you should expect when visiting Fargo, it’s good food (and a lot of it!).

WHERE TO GET A
BISON BURGER

HoDo Restaurant & Lounge
Also try their grilled bison prime rib

Level 2 Eat + Drinks
Order bison as a burger, strip steak, or meatballs

Lucky’s 13
Skip the patty in favor of hand-rolled bison meatballs

The Turf
Pair it with some jalapeno poppers

Twist
A second option: Swedish Bison Meatballs

More bison options
Try the bacon-wrapped bison meatloaf with BBQ glaze at Urban 42 or the Surf & Turf entree (bacon-wrapped North Dakota bison tenderloin and lobster claw) at Maxwells.

MORE THAN
BACON and EGGS

We take the most important meal of the day very seriously.

Diners
The Shack on Broadway
Locals consistently rate this mom-and-pop diner as the #1 breakfast joint for its cozy booths, friendly waitstaff, and home-cooked food.

Young Blood Coffee Co.
The gourmet toast menu will fill you up with something warm and (excuse the pun) toasty. Couple that with West Coast-inspired coffee.

BernBaum’s
Fresh New York-style bagels infused with Nordic-Jewish flare in a cool deli setting.

Black Coffee and Waffle Bar
Gourmet waffles and hand-ground coffee? Say no more.

Grab-and-go
Sandy’s Donuts
Started as a local favorite in West Fargo, this donut shop has grown into the go-to place to get donuts in town.

Boppa’s Bagels
These quick grab bagel sandwiches give you lots of variety... seriously, you can choose from 31 bagel varieties and 17 cream cheese spreads.

Satisfy Your Sweet Tooth

Get your sugar high at one of these local dessert spots.

Scoop N’ Dough Candy Co.
Flake homemade cookie dough on any ice cream scoop

Tea & Crepe Cafe
Watch them pour, freeze, and roll your ice cream right in front of you

Kono’s Kreamery
Delicious gelato and the cutest animal cones you ever did see

Nichole’s Fine Pastry
Delicate pastries, award-winning cakes – it’s a dessert lover’s dream!

Silver Linings Creamery
Small-batch, gourmet flavors like lavender, salted caramel, and Cap’n Crunch
Drekker Brewing Company's Brewhalla
Step inside this renovated, 18,000-square-foot, 1880s Northern Pacific Railroad shop and sip beer fit for Viking heaven below two stories of weathered brick and salvaged beams.

Check out the exposed brewing operation, then sit on the spacious patio by the fire pit while a local food truck serves up delicious dishes.

Want a tour? Join a brewer on the first Saturday of the month for a free guided Grassroots-Glass tour and tasting session.

Wine
There are actually six full-scale wineries (p. 44) in Fargo and the surrounding area. Many of them specialize in Frontenac wines made from cold-weather, hearty grapes that grow well in Fargo’s climate and create a variety of drier wines.

Provino’s Bistro Bar
The name provino means “wine+

Cider & Mead
Wild Terra Cider Bar – the first urban ciderery in the state – serves local and regional ciders in a reclaimed stable, or head a little outside of Fargo to Cottonwood Cider House for local apple goodness.

North Dakota is the nation’s biggest producers of honey, so local wine makers at Prairie Rose Meadery decided to start fermenting it into mead (a.k.a. honey wine!)

Crafts & Drafts Passes
Pick up your pass at any of the local breweries or visitors centers. Then, get a stamp at each of the stops to get a free t-shirt and a bonus prize.
> Bike
With 200 miles of bike trails in Fargo-Moorhead, rent a two-wheeled ride from any of the Great Rides Bike Share stations and cruise along the Red River or through the city's beautiful parks. For a little more adventure, Gooseberry Park and MB Johnson Park have 3.5 and 4-mile mountain biking trails.

> Golf
Seven public golf courses (pg. 46) mean plenty of places to practice your swing. From the natural links course at The Meadows and sprawling fairways of Osgood to riverside holes at Edgewood and rolling greens at Rose Creek, you'll find yardage and terrain for all ability levels.

> Canoe & Kayak
The Red River separates North Dakota from Minnesota, so you can paddle in two states at once! Rent a kayak or canoe at Viking Ship Park or Linderoewd Park and hit the water. Don't worry about the muddy color—it's just silt. The Red is actually one of the cleanest rivers in the nation.

> Fish
Pick a spot along the shore and cast your line. The Red has Musky, Northern Pike, Bass, Walleye, and some massive Catfish. Just make sure to get a fishing license from the state in which you're sitting (North Dakota on the west side of the river, Minnesota on the east).

> Hike
Fargo’s pretty flat, so “hiking” is more like “leisurely strolling” — making it great for all abilities! In town, check out the Red River Trail of the North (5 miles) and MB Johnson Park (2 miles). For longer hikes, head just outside the city to Buffalo River State Park or the Sheyenne Grasslands (1-20 miles).

> Birding
The grasslands and urban woods along the Red River provide ample birding opportunities. The Audubon Dakota restoration initiative has been rehabilitating the natural habitats of birds of the region, so you can spot all sorts of feathered friends native to North and South Dakota. Don’t forget your binoculars!

> Disc Golf
Disc golf has grown in popularity over the last few years, leading to the creation of some beautiful courses. Rent a disc from the Fargo Park District at Hibben, at Schools Sporting Goods and hit one of the 10 disc golf courses (pg. 46) in Fargo, Moorhead, and West Fargo.

> Skydive
Adrenaline junkies can take the leap with Skydive Fargo on a tandem jump over the sprawling fields surrounding Fargo.
Winter

XC Ski
Trails at Edgewood Park, MB Johnson Park, and Lindewood Park weave through stunning snow-covered terrain along the frozen Red River – and give you a fantastic winter workout. Rent cross country skis at Edgewood or MB Johnson Park for less than $12 a person (youth rentals available, too).

Skate
If you brought your own skates, Fargo, Moorhead, and West Fargo have over 30 outdoor rinks (pg. 46) to choose from. Looking to rent? Every Sunday from 2:15 to 4:15 p.m., Moorhead Sports Center holds open skating ($3 entry) and has plenty of rental sizes available for just $1!

Sled
Fargo may be flat, but the city still has some great sledding hills... and it isn’t tough to get back to the top! For free sled rentals, head to Edgewood Chalet during warming house hours. Brought your own? Dill Hill in Fargo’s oldest park, Island Park, is a top sledding spot for locals.

Curl
While it’s fun to watch curling, it’s even more fun to do it yourself. The F-M Curling Club schedules “Learn to Curl Sessions” where you can get out there and pretend you’re an Olympic hopeful. This is technically indoors, but make sure to dress warmly... the arena is kept around 40°F.

Snowshoe
If there’s snow on the ground (which is pretty likely in a Fargo winter), you can rent snowshoes at M.B. Johnson Park or Edgewood Park and take to the banks of the frozen river for some good tromping through the flakes. Added bonus: snowshoeing burns between 420 and 1000 calories per hour.

Fat Tire Bike
Explore four miles of groomed, wintry trails from the saddle at M.B. Johnson Park. Right along the river, you can enjoy beautiful views with a lot of tree cover. Note: You’ll need to bring your own bike or buy a gently used one from Paramount Sports or Great Northern Bicycle Co.

Play in the Snow
It won’t be hard to find enough snow in Fargo to build a great snowperson. Just find the nearest park and get rolling! The white stuff also works for snow angels, snow forts, and snowball fights. Make sure to tag pictures of your creations with #NorthofNormal – the official hashtag of Fargo.
FAMILY TIME

IS ABOUT TO LEVEL UP!

> Indoors

At SCHEELS Sporting Goods, a giant Ferris wheel greets you (rides are only $1). Interactive games upstairs can keep your kids busy.

Kids can bounce off the walls (literally) at Skyzone Trampoline Park. Jumps start at $10 for 30 minutes and they have dedicated days for your toddlers.

The huge indoor playground at Courts Plus is only $4 per kid for entry or get the whole crew cruising on rented skates for $8 at Skate City for some retro fun.

> Outdoors

Spend warm days outside in one of the city’s parks. Insider tip: Rent a fleet of bikes and cruise through Lindenwood Park, or try your hand at disc golf in Woodland Park.

Rent a kayak or canoe (you can rent double kayaks with young kids), let older kids jump off the high dive at Island Park Pool (for all pools, see pg. 48), or take younger ones to the free Shadow Wood Splash Pad.

For older kids, head to Thunder Road for laser tag, mini golf, go-karts, and batting cages, or El Zagal Golf Course for a round of footgolf—a.k.a. golf with a soccer ball!

In colder weather, go ice skating at any of Fargo’s outdoor ice skating rinks (pg. 46), then hit some of the city’s sledding hills.

Let the creative fun begin!

Get hands-on at Clay Your Way painting a ceramic masterpiece that they’ll fire for you to take home.

The Plains Art Museum also holds art classes, while The Art Bar holds painting events for ages 6 and up.

Explore local street art in a couple of ways: Find Downtown Fargo’s murals (pg. 42), then hunt down all of the painted bison in the city (maps available at the Fargo-Moorhead Visitors Center).

Great performing arts geared toward kids take the stage throughout the year. In summer, Trollwood’s mainstage musical is kid-friendly and always fabulous. Local theater productions happen year-round (see pg. 42 for all theater companies).

Kids will also be enthralled by the graceful FM Ballet.

Expand their little minds with these experiences.

Kids can study the stars and learn about space at a live show at the MSUM Planetarium.

For more “aero” fun, swing by the Fargo Air Museum to look at large aircraft and climb into smaller displays. An audio tour can explain things in real time as you go.

Younger kiddos will adore the Children’s Museum at Yunker Farm, with its scores of activities and 50+ indoor exhibits.

Designed for kids, Escape, Jr. makes for a great hour of brain teasing fun in any of their kid-themed rooms.

Two of Fargo’s top attractions are perfect for learning. Step back in time at the pioneer village Bonanzaville, USA, or meet some of the rare cold-weather species living at the Red River Zoo.

In winter, pretend you’re Olympic hopefuls and learn to curl at the F-M Curling Club. Check ahead on their website for class times.

Fargo is a shopper’s dream destination. The largest shopping mall in the region, local clothing boutiques, craft stores, the biggest sporting goods store in the state, antique shops, craft stores, and more means you can spend days (and plenty of dollars) in the city.

> Name Brands

A shopping trip in Fargo wouldn’t be complete without stopping by the 19th Avenue corridor.

Starting at West Acres Mall – the largest mall for hundreds of miles – you will find anchor stores like Macy’s, Best Buy, and JCPenney along with go-tos like American Eagle, Eddie Bauer, Julep, Gap, PINK, Hollister, and Forever 21.

Continue checking items off your list just down the street at Target, TJ Maxx, Marshall’s, Kohl’s, Old Navy, and more. Needless to say, this line of name brand stores will get you well on your way to a good shopping spree.

> Boutiques

Downtown Fargo is the first place to look for local boutiques and one-of-a-kind items from Fargo. Head to ONYX + PEARL or Kittsona along Main Avenue and Kindred People, Boots & Heels, Others, and Proper on Broadway for trendy clothing options.

Shopping for home decor? MINT + BASIL has a ton to offer from great smelling candles to yummy balsamic and honey while The Red Silo and O’Day Cache carry eclectic mixes of decor, candles, jewelry, and more.

Outside of Downtown Fargo, The Shoppes at Blu Water Creek is the newest shopping district in South Fargo. Stroll from Ieela & lavender, a gift boutique with fashion items and home decor, to Willow District and Laurie’s, which both carry trendy women’s specialty clothing, to Eco Chic Home for its great collection of decor and furniture items.

West Acres Mall is another go-to for boutiques. Stop in Francesca’s for trendy and ever-changing items, while Apricot Lane Boutique offers clothing and accessories for women of all ages. For a more curated outfit, head to Evereve for advice from expert stylists.

> Antiques & Vintage

For that perfect piece of vintage, check out a few of Fargo’s antique shops (find a complete list on pg. 44).

The largest selection of antiques in the region can be found at Moorhead Antiques Mall. From there, stop Downtown at Reed & Taylor Antiques, Big Yard Antiques & Collectibles, and FM Antiques & More for antique furniture, decor, and collectibles.

If you’re interested in vintage items that have been repurposed into something new, Fargo Antiques & Repurposed Market or J’s Funky Market tick the box.

For vintage clothing, we recommend Revolver and Violet Vintage. To enhance your vinyl record collection, stop by Vinyl Giant and Orange Records.

ACRES OF ART

West Acres is the largest shopping center in North Dakota, but it’s much more than shopping these days. It’s a regional artistic showcase. Permanent and rotating collections, live music, and artists hard at work are just a few things to expect.

With a collection that features over 100 artists and nearly 105 pieces, mall goers can find the largest collection of local and regional art in the state. Through a collaboration with The Arts Partnership (a local nonprofit arts advocacy organization), West Acres is home to Aptaitude – a 6,000-square-foot studio space housing 19+ local artists. The artists open their studios during special events with their art available for viewing and sale.

The mall also has an Artist in Residence program that allows artists from any discipline to apply and occupy a storefront for 4-8 weeks. Shoppers can watch a rotating line-up of local artists create their pieces first hand.

West Acres Mall involves the arts community in everything from design and displays to live performances and events. A shopping mall that loves the arts is just another way Fargo is North of Normal.

Highlights of the mall’s regional showcase include:

• Over 550 recipes shared by local families cover the pillars in the food court as part of the “Recipe for Sharing” collection.
• In Center Court you can peruse collections of local photography and books featuring or penned by local authors.
• Visit one of the city’s painted bison sculptures, “Buffalo Path: The Gathering”, in the Buffalo Court. You’ll also find the city’s only art-o-mat machine, a vending machine containing small local and regional art pieces.
• The Fountain Court is home to the “Fountain of Abundance” sculpture and fountain as well as a trio of handcrafted kaleidoscopes.
• Aerial art displays throughout the mall are rotated throughout the year.
• 100+ live performances by local musicians throughout the year.
From museums and galleries to studios and incubators, it’s easy to get lost in Fargo’s arts and culture scene.

Plains Art Museum
The only accredited museum between here and Seattle—and the largest in the state of North Dakota—the Plains features regional and national exhibits as well as Native American art.

The Rourke Art Gallery + Museum
Housed inside the historic Moorhead Federal Post Office, The Rourke’s permanent collections contain more than 5,000 works from a wide array of cultural and artistic traditions.

The Hjemkomst Center
Most notably known for the Hjemkomst Viking Ship and Stave Church, HCCSCC also features several national and regional exhibitions every year.

---

WILD AT HEART

Gallery 4
Owned and operated by local artists, this cooperative gallery allows you to interact with the artists themselves. It’s also a Visitors Center and “Made in Fargo” gift shop.

Spirit Room
This space focuses on one thing: enriching lives through the practice of creative, contemplative, and healing arts. Their rotating exhibits, regular yoga classes, and dance classes do just that.

Ecce Gallery
The clean white interior and natural light directs all focus to the rotating local and regional exhibits. Ecce serves as a springboard for emerging talent as well as a respected gallery for established artists.

Dakota Fine Art
An artist collective located in the historic Dakota Business College, Dakota Fine Art sells everything from paintings and sculptures to woodturning and handmade jewelry.

These bike racks in Downtown spell “FARGO” in sign language.
The Fargo Theatre is the heart of Fargo’s arts and entertainment. We talked with its Executive Director, Emily Beck, about what makes it beat.

What’s the Fargo Theatre’s history?
Emily: When the Fargo Theatre first opened in 1926, movie tickets cost just 25 cents for adults. It was an era of silent cinema – one year before the movies learned to talk. The first film screened was The Man on the Box starring Syd Chaplin (Charlie Chaplin’s brother).

The Theatre has been in operation for 93 years, constantly evolving with the film industry and the city it calls home. It is now the region’s only art-house cinema, specializing in independent and international film programming.

Today, the Theatre continues the tradition of live entertainment by offering performances by both local performing arts groups and professional touring artists, while showing about 100 movie titles a year.

What’s something most people don’t know about the Fargo Theatre?
Emily: We are so much more than a marquee! Our marquee is a wonderful photo op and we are proud to be a local landmark, but the arts programming offered inside of the Theatre is the heart of the organization.

We try to offer a little something for everyone: new release and classic film, all genres of live music, stand-up comedy, dance, and community events.

Anything else you’d like visitors to know?
Emily: Maintaining the Theatre’s historic facility takes a whole lot of love and a considerable amount of support from the community. Also, I might be biased, but I think we have the best popcorn in town!

Want to visit the Fargo Theatre?
You need a ticket to a movie or event to see the interior of the Fargo Theatre. Luckily, a movie is only $9 and events are constantly filling its two theaters!

Emily’s top 5 events to attend at the Fargo Theatre:
1. The Fargo Film Festival
2. The Classic Film Series
3. The FM Ballet’s annual spring performance
4. A live music concert
5. A live stand-up comedy performance

Wood Chip Marge: Hidden in the Fargo Theatre, this wooden statue is carved in the likeness of Marge Gunderson from the Coen Brothers’ 1996 film FARGO.

The Mighty Wurzert: This 1926 pipe organ is the largest between Minneapolis and Seattle. You can still hear it play before weekend movies and during special events.

Fargo-Moorhead’s performing arts companies fill the city’s stages with incredible shows. You just have to know where to find them.

F-M Opera will leave you surprised and impressed. The 2020 season includes a one-act operatic comedy, Speed Dating Tonight!, and the Italian masterpiece, Cavalleria Rusticana, plus fall and winter performances.

FM Ballet dances across the stage performing classics like The Nutcracker as well as modern interpretations of age-old tales – in May 2020, don’t miss Cinderella.

If you’re visiting between September and April, attend a performance by the Fargo-Moorhead Symphony Orchestra for traditional orchestral music with the occasional contemporary twist.

On another note (pun intended), you can hear the F-M Gay Men’s Chorus, F-M Choral Artists, and other local ensembles (pg 42) year-round.

During the holidays, the Concordia College Choir and The Blenders Christmas shows are can’t-miss choral performances.

Large Broadway productions can be found at the Gate City Bank Stage inside the FARGODOME.
> Dancing
Learn to swing dance at a Fargo Swing Dancing event (find them on Facebook!). Arthur’s Barn hosts good of fashioned barn dances, or boogie to live bands at The Windbreak, TAK Music Venue (open to all ages), or the Downtown VFW. For a dance club night, The 08 is a must, or get down to alternative and rock bands at The Pickled Parrot and Shotgun Sally’s.

> Sports Fans
TVs at every table and a buffet served on a classic car? Go to Tailgaters Sports Cafe. For wall-to-wall HD screens and a peanut bar, check out Wild Bill’s Sports Saloon. Brewster’s Brickhouse is a must for brick-fired pizzas and game day specials. Legends offers free shuttle rides to NDSU tailgating, all-day happy hour on Sundays, and plenty of screens. Sidestreet has plenty of room to watch the game while you play pool. At Sports Zone the name says it all, really.

> Comedy & Open Mic
Your first stop for comedy should be The Cellar, Fargo’s only dedicated comedy club, in the basement of Front Street Taproom (which hosts open mic music, poetry, and comedy every Monday). The Pickled Parrot holds open mic comedy on Wednesdays. On Thursdays, you’ll find open mic poetry at Red Raven Espresso Parlor (open to all ages) and open mic comedy and music at Dempsey’s.

> Beer Drinkers
Fill an infamous “Das Boot” with one of Wurst Bier Hall’s 41 beers, or drink brews made only in North Dakota, Minnesota, and South Dakota at Front Street Taproom. Sidestreet pours from 50 taps, while JL Beers – voted “best beer drinking spot in North Dakota” – serves national and global pints. Don’t forget Fargo’s eight craft breweries (pg. 44).

> Cocktails
Some of the city’s best cocktails are mixed during happy hour at Mezzaluna. Sip tasty martinis at the HoDo, interesting concoctions at Twist, or drinks made with Fargo’s own craft spirits at Proof Artisan Distillers. A Moorhead favorite, Harold’s On Main, pours tasty and original creations in their cozy, TV-less setting, while Maxwell’s and Tru Blu in West Fargo make what we can only call dang good cocktails in upscale settings.

After 5pm, Fargo comes alive. Live music can be found darn near every night of the week. Comedy clubs? You betcha! If you’re looking to laugh, sing along, or dance the night away, Fargo’s got ya covered.
DEMPSEY’S PUBLIC HOUSE

An icon of the city, this Irish bar set the stage for the revitalization of Downtown Fargo and its growing music scene.

The beloved pub was established in 2006 by brothers Burt and Klaus Meyers. When it came to choosing the name, they decided to honor a relative of theirs, the great Irish-American boxer, Jack Dempsey.

Just steps away from the iconic Fargo Theatre, the friendly Irish pub has a reputation for excellent service, perfectly poured draft Guinness, and a diverse menu which includes $1 tacos every Tuesday. You’ll find live (and free) entertainment almost every night of the week, from open mic nights and rockin’ cover bands to authentic Celtic performances.

Dempsey’s doesn’t stop there, however. Upstairs you’ll find The Aquarium, a music venue with a mission to bring original, cutting-edge music to Fargo-Moorhead. A staple of the local music scene, the Aquarium has a relaxed and intimate feel. With a max capacity just shy of 300, there’s not a bad seat in the house.

The Aquarium hosts more national, regional, and local artists than any other venue in the state. Past performers include the likes of Father John Misty, Bon Iver, The Melvins, Band of Horses, and hundreds of other nationally acclaimed acts.

Dempsey’s is truly a cornerstone of Fargo-Moorhead, and The Aquarium is a trailblazer in the regional music scene. If you make your way to Fargo, be sure to cross both off your list.

BEST PLACES FOR LIVE MUSIC

They say the heart of rock and roll is still beating (or at least Huey Lewis does). The heart of the local music scene beats loud and proud and there’s no shortage of places to hear it for yourself.

 Drinks & tunes
Enjoy a meal, drink, and good conversation with music in the air. On Thursdays, head to the HODO Lounge for live music from a range of genres. Sip local craft beers at Junkyard Brewing Company as singer-songwriters serenade you almost nightly, or taste some regional brews at Front Street Taproom while local musicians play.

 Local, original music
Curious about the music being made by Fargo natives? The local music scene is comprised of insane talent and diverse genres. For original music from local and touring bands, The Aquarium is a must-stop spot. You can also catch original artists at Sidestreet and Red Raven Espresso Parlor.

 Feeling jazzy?
Urban 42 sources both its ingredients and extremely accomplished musicians locally for its Thursday jazz nights. Fargo’s most popular Irish themed bar, Dempsey’s, gets a little jazzy on Mondays, and the city’s only urban cidery, Wild Terra, dishes up groovy tunes along with brunch every Sunday.

 Dance the night away
Sing with high energy cover bands at the Pickled Parrot or Shotgun Sally’s. For large dance floors and live country or rock bands, head to TAK Music Venue (open to all ages!), the West Fargo VFW, or the Windbreak – famous for its Thursday ladies’ night drink specials.

 Beautiful venues, big bands
Fargo has been known to draw in some pretty well-known acts such as Paul McCartney, Taylor Swift, The Rolling Stones... need we go on? The top venues for concerts such as these are Bluestem Amphitheater, Sanctuary Events Center, Scheels Arena, Fargo Theatre, and the FARGODOME.
